

I believe that people should be given the choice on whether they want the emergency service or not. I would prefer if we were given both options. So that some may pay if they wish and others don't have to.